

Does the interest earned on my retirement savings form part of the retirement sum that I am required to set aside at age 55?

No, the interest earned on your retirement savings does not form part of the retirement sum that you are required to set aside at 55.