

If I have withdrawn under the Reduced Life Expectancy scheme, can I still apply to withdraw a lump sum at age 55 and payout eligibility age for my immediate retirement needs?

No, you will no longer be able to withdraw a lump sum at age 55 and payout eligibility age for your immediate retirement needs as the withdrawal savings are already paid out to you earlier under the Reduced Life Expectancy scheme.