

Can I request to retain the Ordinary and Special Account savings in the CPF accounts for future housing needs?

No, your CPF savings are meant to provide you with a stream of retirement income. If you still have housing obligations after starting your monthly payouts, you can use your monthly payouts or monies in excess of your Full Retirement Sum after this transfer to meet your housing needs.