

Why are the non-withdrawable monies from my Ordinary and Special Account (OSA) transferred to my Retirement Account (RA) different from the amount stated in the notification sent to me?
The amount of non-withdrawable monies transferred to your Retirement Account (RA) is based on the latest balances in your Ordinary and Special Account (OSA). The difference could be due to new inflows or outflows that took place in your OSA after we had sent you the notification.